

Art, Information, Interviews: Melissa Campbell
931.598.5075
cam@edge.net

'Jammin' To Beat The Blues' Benefit Concert

The Mental Health Association Of Middle Tennessee Presents

Vince Gill and Amy Grant In Concert April 2, 2005 - The Ryman Auditorium

Nashville, TN – (February 1, 2005) - - Vince Gill and Amy Grant will unite with the Mental Health Association of Middle Tennessee (MHAMT) this spring, presenting 'Jammin' To Beat The Blues', the organization's seventh annual benefit concert, slated for Saturday, April 2 at 7:30p at The Ryman Auditorium. Tickets are $29.50 and go on sale at 10:00AM on February 12 at all area Ticketmaster Outlets, The Ryman Auditorium Box Office, www.ticketmaster.com, or by calling (615) 255-9600.

Jammin' to Beat the Blues is the primary fundraiser for The Mental Health Association of Middle Tennessee, becoming an annual event since 1999. The goal of The MHAMT, a member-supported organization, is to promote mental wellness in the lives of children, family, friends, and co-workers, and erase the stigma of mental illness. Funds raised will promote education, advocacy and service to those in need and to continue the IC HOPE® for mental wellness campaign.

For more information about Jammin' to Beat the Blues or The MHAMT, contact Linda Mattocks at LMattocks@MHAMT.org or visit www.ichope.com. For additional information: <http://www.ryman.com> www.vincegill.com www.amygrant.com

###